

Seiche Water Technology Group Ltd encompassing Seiche Ltd, AutoNaut Ltd and Ashridge Engineering Ltd is committed to the implementation, ongoing maintenance and continual improvement of our ISO 14001 environmental management system for the propose of prevention of pollution through ensuring we have minimal environmental impact via our daily operations to design and manufacture equipment and software for control, measurement, mitigation and modelling across the offshore energy, construction, utilities, marine science and defence sectors .

To achieve this we will....

- Comply with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements
- Set continual improvement objectives
- Monitor and measure our performance and impact
- Educate and develop our staff and encourage an environmentally protective culture
- Review, identify and address environmental enhancing management system resource requirements
- Create and comply with environmental processes, policies and procedures as required
- Consider and develop lifecycle perspective throughout our operations and evaluate our suppliers for the same